Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133).
- Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) ☐ Responsive to communication(s) filed on ____.
- 2a) ☒ This action is FINAL. 2b) ☐ This action is non-final.
- 3) ☐ Since this application is in condition for allowance except for formal matters, prosecution as to the merits is closed in accordance with the practice under Ex parte Quayle, 1935 C.D. 11, 453 O.G. 213.

Disposition of Claims

- 4) ☒ Claim(s) 1-17 is/are pending in the application.

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1, 3, 4, 6, 8-10, 11, 12 and 17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Heskett et al. (USP 5,908,233). Heskett (see figure 1 & 2) teaches a male connector, 28, that is plugged into a main power supply, and a second male connector, 22 or 18, with a electronic circuit for transforming the voltage which is located between the two connectors and is one rigid physical unit with indicator, 50.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 2, 13 and 15 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Heskett et al. (USP 5,908,233) in view of Todd (USP 3,034,000). Heskett discloses the claimed invention except for the use of an on/off switch to control the supply of power to the electronic device. It would have been an obvious matter of engineering design choice to use an on/off switch to control the supply of power to the electronic device, since applicant has not disclosed that the on/off switch solves any stated problem or is for any particular purpose and it appears that the invention would perform equally well with switch used for the appliance adapter to control the flow of power the load.

5. Claims 5, 7, 14 and 16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Heskett et al. (USP 5,908,233) as applied to claim 1 above, and further in view of Hugly (USP 3,996,546). Heskett discloses the claimed invention except for the use of the interchangeability of the plugs for voltage adaptation for differing consumer devices. It would have been an obvious matter of engineering design choice to use interchangeable of plugs for voltage adaptation for differing consumer devices, since applicant has not disclosed that the use interchangeable of plugs for voltage adaptation for differing consumer devices solves any stated problem or is for any particular purpose and it appears that the invention would perform equally well with any type of interchangeable plugs and that is adaptable to any one of numerous consumer devices.

Response to Amendment

6. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-17 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

7. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
